By an Act of Assembly of 1893, "All Deeds and Conveyances shall be recorded within ninety days after their execution, or shall be adjudged fraudulent and void against subsequent purchasers."
Also the Act of Assembly of 1909, prescribes a short form of Deeds, and "again requires the recording to make them valid."
It is also a great protection against loss or deed being burned by a new deed.
Bring or send them into the Recorder's office, and in a few days they will be returned to you.

FIRE CAUSED BY CIGARETTE

Home of John Costley, Rear of Baltimore Street, Ruined by Fire, Smoke and Water in Blaze Caused by Cigarette

Fire Monday evening about half past eight o'clock damaged the house at the rear of the Methodist parsonage owned by John Costley and completely ruined the contents.

The fire is supposed to have been caused by a lighted cigarette thrown into a box where kindling and paper were kept and the blaze is thought to have smoldered for some time before the fire was discovered.

Mr. Costley was at the Methodist church of which he is sexton when the fire started and Mrs. Costley was visiting friends in another part of town. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams live with the Costleys and had just returned home when the smoke was first discovered, and they lost no time in giving an alarm.

Neighbors hurried to the scene with buckets and managed to get some water on the fire which started to spread rapidly. A scarcity of water hindered the work of the energetic bucket brigade, however, and by the time the company arrived the fire was beyond control. A line of hose was soon working and it was then but a few minutes until the fire was extinguished.

A dense smoke was borne by a south wind from the foot of Baltimore Hill all over the northern section of town. Even in the square the smoke was very noticeable and when the fire bell was first rung it was impossible to locate the scene of the trouble and the company stood idle for some moments before they found which way to take the apparatus.

The cigarette which is blamed for the fire is thought to have been thrown into the box which contained the inflammable material by one of the men who lived in the house. The smoke was first discovered near the chimney where this box was kept and was so dense that the exact location of the source of the fire could not be ascertained. It was thought by those fighting the fire that it had originated from a defective flue but there had been no fire in the house all afternoon or evening and that theory would not hold.

The house is a frame one and a half story structure and is owned by Mrs. Betzel, of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Costley are hard working people and were just "getting a start" if any person in town who has a sink, kitchen utensils, dishes or other things that could be spared, would be worthily bestowed.

THROWN FROM HORSE

Mrs. A. S. Bean, of Milwaukee, who with her husband has been spending some time here and in Biglerville was thrown from a horse near Buttonwood Stock Farm while riding between the towns on Monday, a portion of the harness breaking. She was thrown to the ground and dragged some distance sustaining ugly cuts and bruises. She was brought to Dr. Stewart's office in Clarence Redding's automobile and her injuries treated.

THOSE LOCALS PAY

"Take out that mule for sale ad" said a subscriber this morning. "One insertion sold 'em."

"Don't advertise my house for rent any more," said another. "Two times in the paper brought me twelve applicants from which I could take my choice."

MORE OLD COINS

William H. Wisotzky, a Littlestown coin collector, has the following old coins: copper cents of 1747, 1818, 1820, 1825, 1828, 1831, 1832, 1837, 1838, 1840, two of 1845 and 1846, 1848, 1850, 18 2. Half cents of 1808 and 1853.

Parcels Post.

An Ohio man wanted to send a package of four pounds a few miles by mail. It cost him 64 cents to do it. The package weighed exactly four pounds and one ounce. The postmaster made him undo it and take out three plants. The package contained strawberry plants. The gentleman says: "Right over the desk where we undid and repacked the plants hung a placard that proclaimed the rate to foreign countries to be 12 cents per pound up to eleven pounds. Had I wanted to send that four pound package to New Zealand it would have cost me 48 cents; to Toledo, O., it cost 64 cents. I wonder if our national lawmakers ever attempt to reconcile this inconsistency?"

The only ingredients that make prepared stock foods worth a continental are bran, linseed or cottonseed meal and alfalfa meal and like foods which they contain. This being the case, it is better to buy these ingredients in their natural state and not pay two or three prices for a fancy name and a multicolored package.

GLAD FOR ROADS TO GETTYSBURG

Harrisburg Paper Says Special Effort was made to Give Easy Means of Travel between Capital City and this Place.

Harrisburg, the official center of Pennsylvania, the city of the State Capitol, will be connected with Gettysburg, the greatest historic point in Southern Pennsylvania, by one direct and five indirect routes under the terms of the Epsom main highway bill, according to the Harrisburg Telegraph which further says:

"Particular attention was paid to the means of connecting these two important places for the tourist by automobile or team when the bill was being drafted, as it was realized that most people who go to Gettysburg to see the great battlefield would naturally want to come to this city to see the famous Capitol with its works of art and architectural splendors.

"Even as had as the roads are today many people have been making the trip to Harrisburg to see the Capitol and to stop over night at one of the hotels on the way to or from Gettysburg. Pennsylvanians are naturally interested in the Capitol and the improvement of the means of access will be hailed with pleasure by many people.

"By what is known officially as Route No. 123 Harrisburg and Gettysburg are brought into direct communication. There are other routes between the two towns, but they go by way of York and Carlisle, each of the latter places having two routes to the battlefield and being connected with Harrisburg by main highways."

MISTAKE MAY CAUSE DEATH

Captain Buckman, well known in this County, a Resident of near Fayetteville Takes Carbolic Acid instead of Medicine.

Captain John Buckman, of Leeway, east of Fayetteville, well known in Adams County, is lying close to death from taking a drink of carbolic acid Sunday evening. He had been ill for some days and feebly wandered in the dark, unattended, to a cupboard in search of medicine. He got the wrong bottle, the result of which is likely to prove fatal.

Captain Buckman saw service in our navy and has long received a pension because of injuries received while there. After the war he was skipper of a sea-going schooner. The captain came to Fayetteville about twenty five years ago and after living there awhile at the Sam Sherman hotel he purchased the Mentzer farm where he constructed the house in which he lived, the building being somewhat after the model of a naval vessel of that period.

With him lives Mrs. Alice Wingert and her sister, Mrs. Hiram Heisinger who are his housekeepers. Both were absent at the time he took the death draught and no relief came to him until the return of Mrs. Heisinger some hours afterward. Mrs. Wingert was in Philadelphia where a daughter-in-law is ill.

Captain Buckman named his place "Leeway" because of his marine experience and not "Lee Way" as has been erroneously stated by some imaginative persons because General Robert E. Lee had passed that way on his historic march to Gettysburg.

RICE GAVE AWAY SECRET

Miss Hilda S. Stine, of Hanover, was married to Austin T. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Thomas, in Lancaster by the Rev. J. C. Brown, professor in the Reformed Theological Seminary, Thursday last. Miss Elda K. Myers, Gardner Station, was bridesmaid and C. F. Moul, of Hanover, was best man. The party of four secretly left on Thursday morning in Mr. Moul's automobile for Lancaster. Upon arrival in that city they had a pre-nuptial supper in the Stevens House. They then went to the home of the Rev. Mr. Bowman, where the ceremony was performed. On the homeward trip a wedding breakfast was served in the National hotel, York. The news of the wedding did not leak out until some rice was found in Mr. Moul's auto Monday morning and an investigation was made immediately. The couple will reside in Hanover.

AMENDMENTS

The unlooked for influx of amendments to the school code has caused a rearrangement of the program in the Senate for the week. It was the intention of the leaders of the upper branch to report the measure out the day after the public hearing, but this has been found not to be feasible on account of the detail work resulting from the protests which have been offered since the bill passed the House. Senator Tustin, who will be in command of the code, has received 125 amendments, some of which contain merit and will be given consideration.

Mr. Brown said he had no trouble in getting signatures when the people had a proper understanding of the bill. Washington, April 11.—Official society here was surprised to learn that the engagement of Miss Cecilia May, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Henry May, of this city, to Robert Low Bacon, Jr., son of the United States ambassador to France, had been broken off.

Although formal announcement to this effect is made by Colonel and Mrs. May, no reason is assigned for the breaking of the engagement.

Miss May is one of the belles of Washington, and has taken a prominent part in the social affairs of the national capital.

VERDICT AGAINST UNION REVERSED

Hatters' Organization Win Famous Boycott Case.

New York, April 11.—The United States circuit court of appeals has reversed the judgment of the federal court in Connecticut in the famous Danbury hat case and ordered a new trial.

The litigation is now nearly two years old and was instituted by D. E. Loew & Co., of Danbury, hat firm, against the United Hatters of North America, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

It was alleged that the plaintiff company had suffered in its sales as a result of a practical boycott by the defendant because of its refusal to adopt the closed shop. The Danbury firm got judgment in the lower court in Connecticut for $232,240.12 damages.

In setting aside the lower court's judgment, Judge Lacombe holds that the trial judge erred in directing a verdict.

Arkansas Senator Tells Why He Dislikes Newspapers.

Washington, April 11.—Senator Jeff Davis, of Arkansas, performed in the senate.

In making a speech on a resolution he had offered calling upon the postmaster general to inform the senate why he had limited the second-class mail privilege in its application to two St. Louis newspapers printed in the interest of women, Mr. Davis paid his respects to the newspapers.

"I am not a friend of the newspapers," he said. "They are not friendly to me. I have been hounded and dogged by these emissaries of advanced thought until the epidemics of getting a little bit raw. However, I want to see justice done in these two cases."

The Davis resolution was passed after more than an hour's debate.

No Votes For Women In Bay State.

SPANISH REBELS FORM REPUBLIC

Residents of Town in Malaga Province Revolt.

MAY REACH PORTUGAL

Madrid Has Informed Lisbon That Country Cannot Be Used to Foster Designs Against Spain.

Madrid, April 11.—An embryo republic has been proclaimed at Canillas de Aceitune, in the province of Malaga.

The populace of the town rebelled against the royal authority and attacked the barracks of the civil guard. Several persons were wounded in the fighting that followed.

Troops are being sent to the scene. The government does not consider the rebellious incident as a serious affair.

The Republicans are somewhat excited over the movement in Malaga province. The easy overturn of the Portuguese monarchy appears to have inspired the Republicans, who, during the last two weeks, have been using the Ferrer debate in the chamber of deputies as a means of agitation against the monarchical regime.

Had the insurrectionary outbreak occurred near the Portuguese frontier, it would have given more concern to the government, which is determined not to tolerate the intervention of the Portuguese Republicans in Spanish affairs.

The government already has made representations on several occasions at Lisbon regarding the number of Portuguese who are in close correspondence with Spanish Republicans and plotting for a republic in Spain. This government is not hostile to Portugal, but has informed the provisional government that Portugal cannot be used as a base for the promotion of designs against the Spanish monarchy without awakening serious distrust on the part of the government at Madrid.

The cabinet has considered what action should be taken in the event of anarchy in Portugal as a consequence of a prolonged civil war between monarchists and republicans. In the event of such a situation Spain for her own security almost certainly would intervene.

By the military element the occupation of Portugal is regarded as something easy of accomplishment. The Spanish troops are well equipped for field work and the Spanish garrisons on the Portuguese frontier are being strengthened.

Canillas de Aceitune is a town of about 5000 inhabitants in the Velaz-Malaga district in the southern part of the province of Malaga. Malaga province borders on the Mediterranean, its capital, Malaga, being fifty-five miles northeast of Gibraltar.

LORIMER INFORMANT DEAD

Link, Who Got $1000 For Vote, a Victim of Apoplexy.

St. Louis, April 11.—Michael S. Link, former member of the Illinois state legislature, who was indicted by a Chicago grand jury for perjury and turned state's evidence in the investigation of the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, was found dead in a bathtub in his home at Mitchell, Ill.

Death, according to the family physician, was caused by apoplexy.

A week ago Link celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding. He told his guests he had heart trouble and knew he was going to die suddenly. He said he had made all arrangements for his estate if he should die.

Link was manager of the 3000 acre farm of John J. Mitchell, of Chicago. The farm in Madison county, Illinois.

In the grand jury investigation in Chicago Link testified he knew nothing of bribery in the Illinois legislature. After a confession was made by a member of the legislature and Link was indicted on the charge of perjury he admitted he had received $1000. He obtained immunity by appearing for the state.

After his perjury indictment was withdrawn he issued the statement that he had never accepted a bribe, but that the $1000 was a gift and that it had no bearing on the Lorimer-Hopkins contest.

King George Bars Divorcees at Court.

London, April 11.—A morning newspaper says it is understood that King George has revived the rule which obtained in Queen Victoria's reign that no divorced person be received at court. Some relaxation of the rule was made by King Edward. It is believed, however, that though some hardships will be inflicted the more comprehensive measures revived by King George will be more workable and satisfactory.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY

It is said that there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once? Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town! A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25-cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

Same as Here.

Senator William Pierson Fiero of Catskill was seated about the enormous fireplace in an Albany hotel one night when he told this story:

"I remember thirty years ago, when I was a young lawyer, there were about fifteen or eighteen of us—all lawyers—seated about a fireplace much like this. It was a raw, wet night. A bedraggled stranger, wet to the hide, came in, tried to get accommodations and was told there was not a room left. The nearest other place was a mile away. Shivering, the stranger looked at the fire, but we formed such a solid line about it that he could not get near it. Finally one of the lawyers in a spirit of frivolity turned to him and said:

"My friend, are you a traveler?"

"I am, sir. I have been all over the world."

"You don't say! Been in Germany, Egypt, Japan and all the countries in Africa and Asia?"

"All of them—been everywhere."

"Ever been in hell?"

"Oh, yes; been there twice."

"How did you find things there?"

"Oh, much the same as here—lawyers all next to the fire."—New York Herald.

Did Not Look Right.

The intelligent compositor, one of the kind that figures in many an anecdote, worked on an Arkansas paper at a period when a well known novelist was editor. One day the printer undertook to set up the word "doughnut." He spelled it "donut."

"See here," said the novelist, "don't you know how to spell 'doughnut'? You've misspelled it here."

The intelligent compositor came over and gazed at the proof and scratched his head in perplexity. "That doesn't look right, but it had a 'w' in it once, and somehow that didn't look right either."

GAVE LIFE FOR BABY

Twelve-Year-Old Girl Fatally Burned Saving Infant.

Atlantic City, April 11.—Ethel Savage, twelve years old, died in the City hospital, a martyr to a trust imposed upon her by her mother.

"Take good care of baby," admonished the parent as she left the Savage home on Saturday night to go shopping. The girl placed the tot beside a table and then turned to get a picture book to amuse her. The baby tugged at the tablecloth, upsetting a kerosene lamp. Ethel turned as the lamp toppled toward the floor. With no thought of her own danger, the little mother jumped in front of the descending lamp, shoving the baby out of danger.

The lamp exploded as it struck the little heroine. She was a human torch when neighbors arrived. Doctors, inspired by her bravery, fought hard to save her life, but her sufferings became unbearable and she succumbed.

TO ANNIHILATE BATTLESHIP

The Old Texas to Be Target For Another Gunner Test.

Norfolk, Va., April 11.—Another gunnery test by the navy is to be made that will mean the total annihilation of the old battleship Texas, rechristened the San Marcos, and now a wreck on Tangier Shoals, in lower Chesapeake bay.

The guns of the battleship New Hampshire will complete the work of destruction begun several weeks ago, while torpedo boats and submarines will practice under conditions as nearly possible approximating those of war, using the submerged part of the shattered warship as a target.

DENIES DIAZ HAD DEAL TO AID JAPAN

Taft Says Alleged Cause of Mobilization Is Not True.

Washington, April 11.—Through Senator Burton, of Ohio, President Taft made an emphatic denial of the report from Mexico City that a proposed treaty between Japan and Mexico caused the movement of troops to Texas.

"The president authorized me," said Senator Burton, "to deny in most emphatic terms the tale from Mexico City about a secret treaty between Mexico and Japan. There is not one word of truth in it."

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee, after a talk with the president, declared that Mr. Taft was surprised and indignant at the report. "There was danger of widespread revolution and perhaps anarchy in Mexico," he said. "The president acted quickly and decisively. He believed that the army should be on the border ready for any contingency."

The Scrap Book

Handed Back His Own Coin.

A Washington parent tells the following story of his young son, who, by the way, has not reached the shaving stage yet, but, as the story indicates, is not averse to trying:

"The other morning he was reading the newspaper when he suddenly exclaimed, 'Father, I see in the paper that the corporation is going to bust that you are president of.'"

"Now, I knew that I knew more about my business than the paper, so I replied very comfortably, 'My son, never believe anything you see in the newspaper.'"

"A few days later I found my new razor broken, wrapped in a newspaper and thrown behind the house. I immediately went in search of Bobbie."

"Look here, young man, what's the meaning of all this?" I said. "Here's my new razor broken all to pieces, wrapped in a newspaper and thrown behind the house."

"Father," he replied, backing hastily out of the room, "never believe anything you see in a newspaper."—Washington Star.

Do you wish for kindness? Be kind. Do you wish for truth? Be true. What you give of yourself you find. Your world is a reflex of you.

For life is a mirror. You smile And a smile is your sure return. Bear hate in your heart and erewhile All your world with hatred will burn.

Set love against love. Every deed Shall armed as a fate recoil. You shall gather your fruit from the seed That you cast yourself in the soil.

Each act is a separate link In the chain of your deed or your woe. Cope you offer another to drink The taste of their deeds you shall know.

Forgetting Himself.

An elderly gentleman who knew something of law lived in an Irish village where no lawyers had ever penetrated and was in the habit of making the wills of his neighbors.

At an early hour one morning he was aroused from his slumber by a knocking at his gate and, putting his head out of the window, he asked who was there.

"It's me, your honor—Paddy Flaherty. I could not get a wink of sleep thinking of the will I have made."

"What's the matter with the will?" asked the lawyer.

"Matter, indeed!" replied Pat. "Shure, I've not left myself a three legged stool to sit upon!"

8-HOUR LAW GETS KNOCKOUT

Supreme Court Decides It is Unconstitutional.

IT WILL AFFECT LABOR

Decision Reverses Lower Courts and Absolves Contractor Fined For Violation—Is Special Legislation.

Philadelphia, April 11.—In an opinion by Justice Stewart the supreme court delivered a knock-out blow to the act of July 26, 1897, known as the eight-hour law, by reversing the superior court in sustaining the quarter sessions court of Allegheny county, which upheld the constitutionality of the act and imposed a fine on a contractor for violation thereof.

The appellant was John F. Casey, who employed men for more than eight hours a day under a contract with the city of Pittsburgh for the construction of a filtration plant in 1908.

Casey was fined $50 by the lower court, and took an appeal to the superior court on the ground that the act of July 26, 1897, regulating the hours of mechanics, working men and laborers in the employ of the state or municipal corporations therein, or otherwise engaged on public work by restricting such employment to eight hours a day, making a violation thereof a misdemeanor and fixing the maximum penalty at $1000 fine, was unconstitutional.

The superior court, in an opinion by Judge Orady, decided the law to be constitutional, but the supreme court reverses the judgment of the superior court as well as the court of quarter sessions of Allegheny county, and orders the discharge of the defendant, holding that the eight-hour law offends against section 7, article 3, of the constitution, which forbids special legislation regulating labor.

The decision of the supreme court will have a far-reaching effect in Philadelphia, where the eight-hour law operates on all municipal work, according to Assistant City Solicitor Finletter, who, however, qualified his statement by saying that he had not read the full text of the decision.

"If municipal corporations, notwithstanding the clear distinction between their governmental and proprietary powers, are nevertheless to be regarded in whatever they do as instrumentalities and agents of the sovereign power," says Justice Stewart, "then it follows that inasmuch as the state, like the individual, can limit the hours of labor of its own employees, it may impose what regulation it chooses upon its subordinate subdivisions, since the servants of the latter are the servants of the former."

"If, however, the distinction is to be allowed, and municipalities with respect to matters not political and governmental, but proprietary and private, are to be regarded as private corporations with corresponding powers and duties, then the inquiry must be whether the act in question is a special or general law."

"The cases show conclusively that with municipal corporations exist in this dual character, and that also those concerns which are not governmental and political, they enjoy the rights and are subject to the duties which attach to private corporations. Under the doctrine asserted in all our cases the city of Pittsburgh, in constructing its filtration plant as a necessary part of its water system, was not exercising a right of sovereignty, was not therefore an agent or instrumentality of the state, but was acting as a private corporation."

"The classification here attempted is not with a view to meet the wants of municipal corporations as distinguishable from other corporations, but to ameliorate labor conditions, and it rests on neither distinction nor difference."

Cornell's Head Against Color Line In University.

NO COLOR LINE AT CORNELL UNIVERSITY

No Discrimination In Women's Dormitory.

Ithaca, N. Y., April 11.—There will be no color line at Cornell as far as the university is concerned.

That was made clear when a letter written by President Jacob G. Schurman to Mrs. Gertrude A. Martin, adviser of women of the university, was given out.

In this letter Dr. Schurman makes it clear that there can be no discrimination at Cornell on any ground and that colored girls have as much right in any of the university buildings as other persons. This means that they may room in Sage college, the women's dormitory, which is a university building.

Thus the two colored women, who have been trying to get in Sage college for the past year or more have won their fight, and the 269 co-eds, who have sought by petition to the authorities to keep them out, have lost. It developed that not all of the young women at Sage college were opposed to the negroes. Thirty-six of them got up a petition protesting against any discrimination, as Dr. Schurman's letter points out.

SLASHES GIRL WITH RAZOR

Newark Miss Murderously Assaulted by Rejected Lover.

Newark, N. J., April 11.—Marie Frankola, seventeen years old, was the victim of a murderous assault by a man whose attentions she had spurned.

She was walking along the street near her home, 131 Jefferson street, when she was attacked by Frisco Pecorato, who slashed her with a razor, inflicting a wound that extends from the mouth to the left ear. After cutting the girl Pecorato fled and has not yet been caught. The girl was taken to St. James' hospital.

It is said that Pecorato had become infatuated with the girl and had pestered her with his attentions, although she had repeatedly told him that she would have nothing to do with him. It is said that he had also threatened the girl and that she had been in constant fear of an attack by her unwelcome admirer.

FIRE THREATENS 300 MINERS

Another Colliery of Pancoast Shaft's Owners Prey of Flames.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 11.—A fire which threatened 300 mine workers started in the Priceburg colliery of the Scranton Coal company. This company owns the ill-fated Pancoast mine, which is within four miles of this colliery.

Two men discovered a pile of railroad ties afire in the Diamond vein. They notified the authorities, and the latter rushed messengers to all parts of the mine ordering the 300 employees to get out at once. They did so, and as soon as all were safe a fire fighting corps entered the mine and extinguished the fire.

Certain Results

Many a Gettysburg Citizen Knows How Sure They are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Gettysburg. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical doubter. Read the following statement: Mrs. Mary Ohler, 183 Hanover St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I was troubled by weak and disordered kidneys for over a year. My back ached constantly and pains extended from my loins into my head. I had chills and dizzy spells and was bothered by the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly recommended that I finally procured a box at the People's Drug Store and commenced their use. A few doses brought relief and after continuing the use of this remedy for a short time, all symptoms of my trouble disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve my endorsement." (Statement given November 1, 1907.)

A WILLING CORROBORATION.

On January 3, 1910, when Mrs. Ohler was interviewed, she said: "I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills again and confirm all I have previously said about them. This remedy should have a permanent place in every household."

TOM L. JOHNSON PASSES AWAY

Former Mayor of Cleveland Succumbs to Illness.

PIONEER IN STREET RAILWAYS

Was Leader For Three-Cent Fares and Earnest Advocate of Single Tax Theories.

Cleveland, O., April 11.—Tom L. Johnson, four times mayor of Cleveland, is dead. His end came as his weeping family sat around his bed at the Whitehall. They had expected his death at any instant since Mr. Johnson was dragged into a fitful sleep Monday night.

Mr. Johnson's last conscious words were: "Oh, I feel so good," his lips just tracing the words. "I had such pleasant dreams; everything is all right; I feel so happy."

The coma which preceded death was the sign that cirrhosis of the liver and Bright's disease had run their course. Mrs. Johnson, herself ill with grief; his two children, Mrs. Elizabeth Mariani and Lottin Johnson, and Mrs. Lottin Johnson were the devoted family group at the bedside when Mr. Johnson's breathing stopped.

Began Work at 15.

Tom L. Johnson was born in Blue Springs, Ky., July 18, 1854. His father, General William Johnson, a Kentucky legislator, lost his fortune in the Civil War, and at fifteen young Johnson was thrown on his own resources. He got a job as driver of a horse car in Louisville, and thus entered the business in which he later made fame and fortune. Later he became chief of police of Louisville, but he soon became interested financially in the street car systems of Indianapolis, Cleveland, Detroit and Brooklyn.

He was practically at the height of a most successful career as a street railway magnate, when, in 1888, he retired from business to carry out cherished ideas of social reforms, among which was that of three-cent railway fares. This idea had been imparted to him by Henry George, whose influence over Johnson's entire life dated from the time when, on a railroad train, Johnson bought a copy of George's "Social Problems." Later the two became fast friends and worked together on various reforms.

On George's advice, Johnson entered politics, running first for congress. He was defeated in his first campaign on the free trade issue. Later he was elected, serving two terms, from 1890 to 1894. Here one of his most noteworthy achievements was the rise by which he forced the printing of the entire text of Henry George's "Protection or Free Trade" into the Congressional Record and its free distribution to the entire country.

Johnson was defeated in the Republican landslide of 1894, but in 1907 he was elected mayor of Cleveland and he then began his real life's work that of establishing three-cent fares. For years he kept up the fight and as a result Cleveland today still has the three-cent fare, although not exactly under the conditions he had hoped for.

His various terms as mayor were marked by a continual fight against special privilege, with the result that he quickly won the title of "Mayor of the Best Governed City in the United States."

In 1903 he ran for governor and was defeated, but he was elected mayor again in 1905. He met final defeat in 1910.

Although he had been in poor health since then, he had hoped to the last to recuperate sufficiently to enter the next mayoralty campaign. During the last few months of his life most of his time was employed in writing his autobiography.

Johnson married early in life Margaret J. Johnson, daughter of the Confederate colonel, Robert Johnson, at Louisville. Mrs. Johnson and two children, Mrs. Bessie Johnson Mariani and Lottin Edwards Johnson, survive him.

TUB DRESSES

We are glad to announce the arrival last week of over 100 White Lingerie, Fancy Lawn and Gingham Dresses. Never have we shown such a great variety or such beautiful styles as this season. Styles that are designed in cut and trimming by experts "who live and move" with dress style in their thoughts—who visit the Fashion Centres of the world and work out adaptations for the diversified tastes of the United States. In looking over our stock you see just how they look ready to put on, which most people cannot see in their mind's eye when materials are bought by the yard. Then too—there is the fit—and the price—Look at the dresses, calculate the quantity and price of the materials, trimmings—and the cost of dressmaking—plus the style—that few dress makers can give you, and you will see how much is gained.

- Dresses at $2.00, $3.00, $4.00, $5.00 to $10.00
- White Lingeries at $2.00, $3.00, to $8.50
- Landsome White French Lawns, richly trimmed, at $9.00 to $22.50

NOTE—These garments are under the well known Acorn Brand. A personal inspection of this factory found it as clean as your own dining room with operators intelligent and refined in appearance and dress.

CURES PIMPLES QUICKLY

Simple Remedy That Clears Skin Quickly of All Eruptions.

For several weeks past L. M. Buehler has done the biggest business he ever had in any one article in selling Hokara the skin food that has won so many friends in Gettysburg.

It has been found to be an absolute cure not only for all minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., but for the worst sores, ulcers, or even chronic eczema and salt rheum. There has yet to be found any form of wound or disease affecting the skin or mucous membrane that Hokara does not heal, and its action is so instantaneous that those who try it are simply delighted with it right from the start.

In spite of its unusual curative power, the price is trifling. To convince every one of its merits, L. M. Buehler will sell a liberal-sized jar for 25c; larger size 50c. And remember that if you do not think it does what it claims, you get your money back. You certainly can afford to try it on this plan.
